Residency program

Purpose
The PGY2 Infectious Diseases Residency Program builds on Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) education and PGY1 pharmacy residency programs to contribute to the development of clinical pharmacists in specialized areas of practice. PGY2 residencies provide residents with opportunities to function independently as practitioners by conceptualizing and integrating accumulated experience and knowledge and incorporating both into the provision of patient care or other advanced practice settings. Residents who successfully complete an accredited PGY2 pharmacy residency are prepared for advanced patient care, academic, or other specialized positions, along with board certification.

As such, the PGY2 Infectious Diseases Residency prepares PGY1 residency graduates to practice as specialized clinicians, focusing on the care of patients with infectious diseases, with special emphasis placed on performing antimicrobial stewardship within a large, integrated health system.
